ONE OF PALMER'S ORDERS, Sought to Distranchise All Former

Confederate Soldiers.

FRANKFORT, KY., September 7 .-General Palmer, the National Democratic nominee for President, was military Governor of Kentucky in 1865. Just before the August election of that year he issued an order, which, if it could have been enforced, would have practically disfranchised nearly every Democrat or southern sympathizer in the State. Divested of preamble, fl reads; "l. All rebel soldiers, whether pardoned or not, and without regard to the fact that they have or have not taken any of the oaths as prescribed by law, or executive or military orders, or have registered under orders from headquarters of the Department of Kentucky.

"2. All guerrillas and others, who, without belonging to the regular rebel military organizations, have taken up arms against the government, or have in any way operated against the government or people of Kentucky, or any other State

"2. All persons who, by act or word, directly or indirectly, gave aid, comfort, or encouragement to persons in rebellion. This applies to all persons who have voluntarily acted as scouts or spies for rebel or guerrilla forces, who have voluntarily furnished any rebel with food or clothing, horse or arms or groups. or have harbored, concealed, or otherwise aided or encouraged them.

"4. All persons who were or have been directly or indirectly engaged in the civil service of the late so-called Provisional Government of Kentucky, or who have in any way submitted to either of said pretended governments, all agents of or contractors with or for either of said pretended governments are dis-qualified from voting.

"All persons of the classes aforesaid are required to abstain from all interference with elections, and will, if they shall in any manner interfere therein by voting or by appearing at the polls, be at once arrested, and held for military trial.

"Aid will be given to civil authorities to enforce the laws and to preserve the command of Major-General John

M. Faimer.

CLEVELAND AND THE BOLTERS.

The formal alignment of Mr. Cleveland with the bolting Democrats, as consum mated in his telegram to Chairman Bynum, read at the Palmer-Buckner notiation meeting in Louisville Saturday night, will add no strength to the Me Kinley-Palmer combination. That Mr. Cleveland would give his adherence to the assistant Republican contingent had long been a foregone conclusion; and the effect of his public notice of allegiance to that band has been thoroughly counted. He has no following that he carry into the camp of the alliance against the party which has twice put upon him the highest honor it could bestow, and which he has deserted; and the reason that all who would have followed him into the ranks of the encmy have preceded him in the march.

Yet it cannot be denied that, tried by the standard of the bolting Democrats, is entitled to a high place in the councits and among the leaders of the assistant Republicans. Inconsistency is the test of bolting Democracy. To give exthing has the consistency of that faconsistency been more strikingly llustrated than in the nomination of side of every question that has agitated for the last thirty years. A more plebald political record is un graphy. He has been a most rabid free silverite, and now poses as the embodi-He has been a most violent States' rights champion, and is now the high dragooner and a would-be distranchiser of ex-Confederate soldiers, and now his heart yearns for reconciliation with a yearning that is unspeakable. Ha. has been chosen to administer the antidote for the alleged virus of Anarchy in the ticago platform, which was prescribed the political quacks that assembled Indianapolis; yet he is on record as ying made a speech that saused him to be classed as a Communist, a Socialist, and an Anarchist. From that speech we quoted a paragraph a few days ago, and of it Mr. Harvey L. Wilson, secretary of the bolters' State committee, wrote as follows to the Richmond Times of July 10, 1892, from Washington, Mr. Wilson then being the regular Washington correspondent of that paper:

respondent of that paper:

"Senator Palmer's speech on the relations of capital and labor has, as prodicted, created a decided sensation. The radical nature of his utterances fairly took the breath away from some of the old-time, conservative members of the Senate, and for a time they were too bewildered to express any opinion. They don't express any how for quotation, for fear of laying themselves open to the charge of discourtesy; but, among themselves they refer to the Illinois warnborse as a labor agitator, a Communist, and Socialist, and go so far as to pronounce him an Anarchist. They look at him over their shoulders while thus discussing him as in the olden time the devout were wont to eye the heretic.
"But the veteran doesn't mind it at all. He has nothing to recant. He believes that the world is advancing; that new conditions obtain, and to meet them new laws must be made. His speech was not of hasty preparation. The views it not of hasty preparation. The views it expressed he has long since possessed but, since his entrance to the Senate, he has had no occasion to proclaim them. He believes they are correct. Whether they are or not, one thing is certain—they have given to the grave and reverend seignfors of the Senate something new to think about."

But we have an illustration of the in consistency of the bolters nearer home. This same Times, which is the leading organ of the Virginia bolters, claims that the Indianapolis platform is the true exposition of Democracy, and would have its readers believe that it has con-ecrated itself to the work of seeing the principles enunciated in that declaration triumph. Yet it has not been two weeks since the editor of that paper spoke at Clifton Forge from the same stage with an avowed McKinley advocate. In its issue of Sunday the Times tells us that, after it has accomplished its mission, it will turn and do all that it can to prevent the Republican party from imposing its "ATROCIOUS DOCTRINES" upon the ountry. Yet last week the Sound-Money League of Richmond, of which the Times is the mouthpiece, got up a public meeting in the Academy of Music in this city for the purpose of giving our people an opportunity to hear speak the McKin Mr. M. E. Ingalls, jus referred to. Moreover, we notice from an announcement in the Times that the Sound-Money League has engaged Mr. Ingalls-this avowed advocate of the man "ATROCIOUS DOCTRINES" of the Republican party-to make a tour of some of the other cities of the State.

In view of this record, are we not justified in our contention that Grover Cleveland is in the right camp, and is entitled to a high place in the councils and among the leaders of the assistant Republicans? Has he not stood the test of bolting Democracy? Did he not write to Mr. Howell that it was the duty of Democrats to abide by the arbitrament of the National Democratic Convention?

THE TIMES EXPLAINS.

The Richmond Times's explanation of where it stands, which appeared in its issue of Sunday, involves one of the most remarkable confessions that ever appeared in a newspaper. Its article, examined in the light of its record, giv a the whole scheme of the bolters away. It says that the Times must fight to prevent the Chicago platform "from being imposed upon the country as its rule and guide," and then adds:

"But as soon as the country has repu-diated that platform as a code of rules, the Times will then turn and do all that it can to prevent the Republican party from imposing its atrocious doctrines upon the country-doctrines only less atroclous than the Chicago platform.

Turn from where? Where else but the camp of the Republicans? The Times's party has formed an alliance with the Republicans to elect McKinley, as the Times virtually admits, and as is shown by the fact that the Sound-Money League is engineering the speaking tour of Mr. M. E. Ingalls, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, and an avowed McKinlev advočate. But the Times proposes, as soon as that work is accomplished, to turn and rend the Republican party. It proposes to do its best to destroy Mr. ingalls and all other Republicans for doing just what the Times told them to do. The bolters, having betaken themselves to the bosom of the Republican party and having been warmed into a vitality and an energy they could not have acquired without being thus nursed, will the Times tells us, after paving their debt of gratitude so far as to help the party of atrocious doctrines triumph in the next election, turn and endeavor to sting that party to death. Were ever such principles taught before by a paper claiming to stand on the high moral plane the Times claims to stand upon What says the self-respecting bolting Democrat of the position in which the Times places him before the public?

BE FIRM, YE DEMOCRATS. It is written in the Book of Fate that W. J. Bryan is to be elected President of the United States on the 3d day of November next. Never before have we see the indications so clear as to what would be the result of a presidential election. Never before have we seen the voter themselves so deeply interested in a pending campaign. Never before have we seen the people generally, voters or not voters, manifest so unmistakably their concern as members of the body politic. The fact is, that the McKinley combination cannot be boosted into the highest office in the republic without at the same time incurring a long future for the Republican party-a party which no southern man ought ever to be found supporting. Never before, in a word, have the Democrats had such plain saliing. All they have to do between now and election-day is to stand firm. The stars in their courses are fighting for Sis-

"Anarchist John Most would leave New York if he could raise the funds to do so. He admits that anarchy is on the decline in New York, and that it does not pay to be an Anarchist leader. He remains an Anarchist, however, and Hannachist, and it doubtless pays him well to be the latter.

Cyclone Jim Marshall terms the Inlianapolis convention. This is exactly the proper form of words to use in speak ing of that convention.

President Cleveland ought to write one more letter now and answer some of the questions that Deputy-Pension-Commisdoner Bell asks.

So Mr. Cleveland is not only President bolters-an unenviable pre-eminence, cer-

The speech of Hon. Henry R. Pollard selivered at Suffolk yesterday, and which we publish in full this morning, is a splendid Democratic campaign document. It bristles with facts and arguments, which he hurls at the enemy with teiling effect. One of the most incisive thrusts he makes at the bolters, who claim that they are the only simon-pure Jeffersonian Democrats, and who have been so virulent in their attacks upon the criticism of the Supreme Court contained in the Chicago platform, is made with the pen of Jefferson himself. We quote Mr. Pollard's quotations from a letter from Mr. Jefferson to Thomas Ritchie, together with some of the speaker's comments thereon:

"The judiclary of the United States is "The judiciary of the United States is the subtle corps of sappers and miners, constantly working underground, to un-dermine the foundation of our con-federated fabric. We shall see if they are bold enough to make the stride. If they do, then, with the editor of our book, in his address to the public, I will say that 'against this every man should raise his voice,' and more, should lift his arm."

"Here we have Mr. Jefferson denouncing the courts of his day, because they were seeking 'to undermine the foundation of the confederated fabric,'—that is, were disregarding the sovereignty of the States, and making a centralized government. Here we have the author of our Declaration of Independence saying that 'every man should raise his voice, and, if necessary, lift his arm,' against such

"If these people had not been so well educated, they would probably have dis-played the discretion of their Republican allies, and said nothing in their platform on this subject. In comparison with Mr. Jefferson's utterances the Chicago platform is flat and tame."

If the bolters will take the trouble to examine the writings of Mr. Jefferson and the history of the campaigns against him, they will find a good deal more boomerang material therein.

It seems to us the "motor-neer" of the electric car should be the "motor-e'er." He is never anything else.

Cameron on Courts. (Lynchburg News.)

Colonel William E. Cameron, in his speech at the Academy, in Danville, Thursday night, affected some indignation at the alleged criticism of the Supreme Court by the Democratic platform, and took Senator Daniel to task for the lat-ter's defence of his party on that score. The News has already exposed the shallowness and insincerity of this clatter about the Supreme Court; but the idea of Colonel William E. Cameron having the audacity to get up before a Vir-ginia audience to talk about the sanctity of courts is simply amazing. It is an affront to the intelligence of the people and a mockery of the worst sort.

Wao has forgotten Cameron's crusade of 1881? Who does not remember his of 1831? Who does not remember his diatribes against Virginia's Supreme Court? Who does not know that he dragged the judiciary into the vortex of repudiation and from every political restrum in the Commonwealth bitterly scoffed at the authority of the courts?

At Appomattox Courthouse, on Thursday, September 3, 1831, in joint debate with Hon. Thomas S. Bocock, as shown by the files of this newspaper:

by the files of this newspaper:

"Colonel Cameron, in a fit of passion, charged, as squarely as words could imply, that the Funders had packed the Supreme Court of Virginia to uphold a fraudulent debt settlement, and are now keening it nacked." keeping it packed."

That discussion was reported by the present editor of the News, and he distinctly recalls the terrific rejoinder of Mr. Bocock to this monstrous charge of Colonel Cameron's.

But again, on Monday, September 19, 1881, at Chatham, Pittsylvania county. Colonel Cameron debated with Mr. Ficklen, of Buckingham county. The discus len, of Buckingham county. The discussion was fully reported for the News by Judge J. Singleton Diggs. We have referred to our files and here is a quotation from Judge Diggs's report:

"Colonei Cameron ridiculed the authority of the courts, and said that, AS ALL THE REVOLUTIONS IN ENGLAND HAD BEEN ACCOMPLISHED OVER THE HEADS OF THE COURTS, THEY WOULD HAVE TO DO THE SAME WOULD HAVE TO DO THE SAME THING HERE. He said the Readjuster party INTENDED TO PUT IN JUDGES
WHOSE HEARTS AND CONSCIENCES
AS TO THE LAW AGREED WITH THE READJUSTER PARTY."

And Colonel Cameron did not make an idle threat. He and his party did revolutionize the Supreme Court of Virginia; and, with a single exception, packed it with politicians whose lack of capacity and ignorance of the law we have heard and ignorance of the law we have heard denounced a score of times by the very men who are chiefly responsible for Colonel Cameron's appearance in this city; In view of Colonel Cameron's former contempt for the higher courts and the part he had in the deserration of our own supreme temple of justice, doesn't he cut a pretty figure as the indignant defender of the Federal judiciary from the militareference made to it by the Democratic reference made to it by the Democratic party at Chicago! The fact is, there is not a point of current politics upon which these Hannacrats touch that they do not expose to ridicule their utter lack of

Don't Be Frightened from Your Duty (Leesburg Washingtonian.)

There need be no apprehension There need be no apprehension of trouble in our money affairs by change of administration. All efforts to create that impression is without any known precedent in the history of our financial affairs. The laws of the country will be then, until changed in the legal way, as they are now, and no cause will exist to produce any derangement in our cur-rency or bonds than exists now, and if a panicky condition is produced, it will, by an artificial effort, by those who will by an artificial effort, by those who will have an object in causing it, and it will soon die out. Our city papers, in the gold standard interest, are predicting disastrous results to the bond market, but that is simply prediction. The bonds will rest then, as now, on the law, good faith, and honor of the country, which will then be in as true, honorable, and faithful hands as now or have been for the last quarter of a century. Don't be frightened from your duty by such ridiculous predictions. They are dehe frightened from your duty by such ridiculous predictions. They are de-signed to influence the election in favor of the gold combination.
